Issue #19

At Spece, we are constantly evolving, growing, and learning. Our mission is to provide the best experience possible for our members and their guests. A key part of this is staying informed about industry trends—not just in Puerto Rico and the United States, but across the globe.

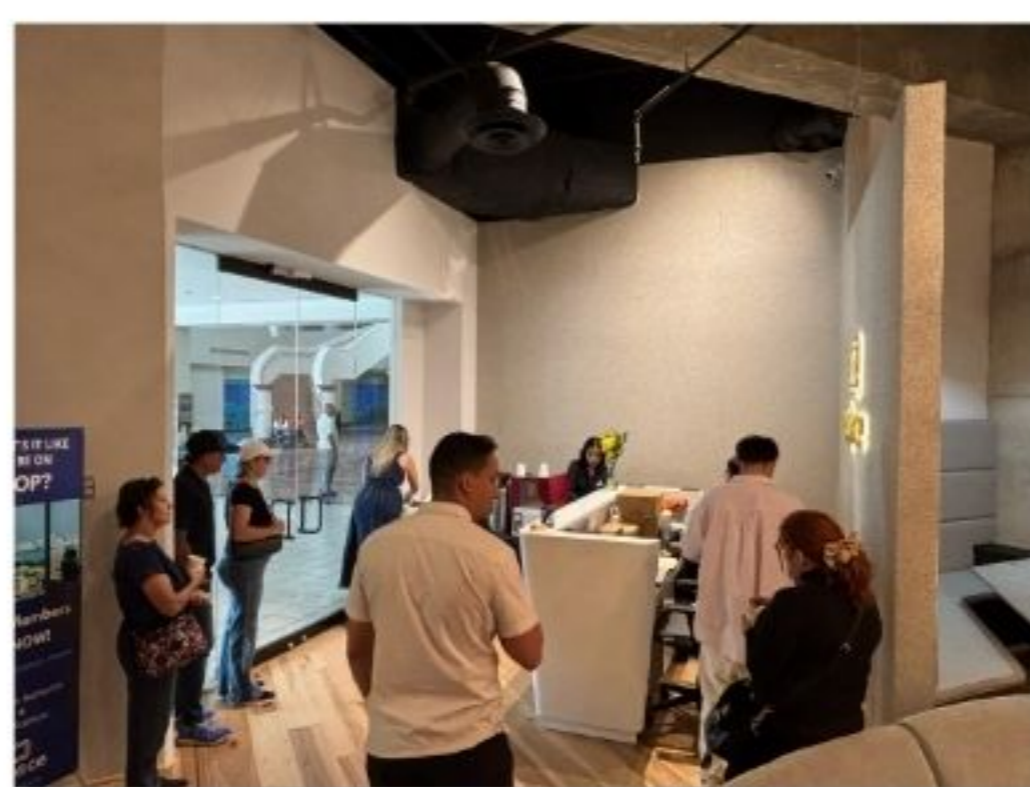

This week, Lisa Hernandez is in Mexico City attending the Global Workspace Association (GWA) annual conference, where she is networking with fellow shared office operators and gaining valuable insights that will contribute to Spece's continued growth.

We've recently placed suggestion boxes at the front desks of both locations. Your feedback is incredibly important to us, and we take all requests, suggestions, and reviews seriously. If there's something you'd like to see added or improved, don't hesitate to share your thoughts by dropping a note in the box!

A huge thank you to all our members and guests who joined us last week to enjoy freshly made coffee and pastries as we celebrated two years at our Guaynabo location! A special shoutout to Nicole for serving as our barista and crafting delicious coffee.
